PRESS RELEASE

Registering to vote is free – please do not pay

Mid Sussex District Council is reminding residents that electoral registration is free, after it emerged that some companies are trying to charge people for the service.

The Electoral Commission, the UK elections watchdog, has been alerted to a company called 'UK Electoral Roll' that is offering a £30-a-time 'assisted service' to complete electoral roll registrations on behalf of customers. The company also uses a £1.53 a minute premium rate number to take customer questions.

The Electoral Commission has now contacted the company, asking them to remove its advertising.

Alex Robertson, Director of Communications for the Electoral Commission, said: "This service is clearly ripping people off. It is very simple to register to vote and we want to make sure no one mistakenly uses this or any service that charges people for something that is available free of charge."

With West Sussex County Council elections taking place next month; local people have until 17 April to register their details if they wish to vote on 2 May. Mid Sussex District Council is reminding local residents that they can register to vote for free by contacting its Electoral Services team on 01444 477003 or by emailing elections@midsussex.gov.uk.
